

We don't want their Great Fascist Reset!

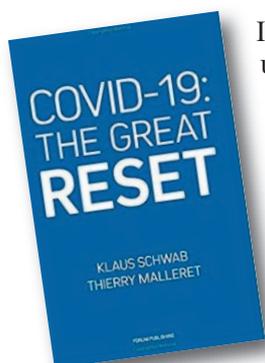

Since March 2020, our freedom has come under attack in ways we could never before have imagined possible.

We have been told we cannot leave our homes, cannot go where we please, cannot see our friends and family.

We have been literally and metaphorically gagged, with any questioning of the official propaganda pumped out by the media treated as something akin to terrorism.

We are also being told we should allow our bodies to be injected with unknown and untested substances, under the threat of being excluded from society if we do not comply.

The shocking truth is that behind all this lies a bid by an ultra-wealthy global elite to take total control over every aspect of our lives. This elite sometimes call their dictatorial coup “The Great Reset” and at other times they prefer terms like “Build Back Better”, “The Fourth Industrial Revolution”, the “New Normal” or the “New Deal for Nature”.

If you point out what these people are up to, you are likely to be dismissed as a crackpot “conspiracy theorist”. But the billionaire ruling class themselves have actually announced what they are doing and have described their plan in their own words.

For instance Klaus Schwab, head of the World Economic Forum at Davos, Switzerland, published a book in July 2020 called Covid-19: The Great Reset. He and co-author Thierry Malleret admit there that Covid-19 is “one of the least deadly pandemics the world has experienced over the last 2000 years”, adding that “the consequences of COVID-19 in terms of health and mortality will be mild compared to previous pandemics”. They add: “It does not constitute an existential threat, or a shock that will leave its imprint on the world’s population for decades”.

Yet, incredibly, this “mild” illness is simultaneously presented as the excuse for unprecedented social change under the banner of The Great Reset! “It is our defining moment”, they crow. “Many things will change forever”. “A new world will emerge”. “The societal upheaval unleashed by COVID-19 will last for years, and possibly generations”. “Many of us are pondering when things will return to normal. The short response is: never”.

For anyone who has been wondering what the point of lockdown is, Schwab and Malleret provide the answer. They write: “One major effect of confinement will be the expansion and progression of the digital world in a decisive and often permanent manner. In April 2020, several tech leaders observed how quickly and radically the necessities created by the health crisis had precipitated the adoption of a wide range of technologies. In the space of just one month, it appeared that many companies in terms of tech take-up fast-forwarded by several years... It is not by accident that firms like Alibaba, Amazon, Netflix or Zoom emerged as ‘winners’ from the lockdowns”.

And never mind about the negative effects of lockdowns on children's well-being. “The pandemic may prove to be a boon for online education”, say Schwab and Malleret, while also enthusing: “The pandemic will fast-forward the adoption of automation in the workplace and the introduction of more robots in our personal and professional lives”.

Even the dehumanising misery of “social distancing” is good news for these vultures. They gloat: “Automation technologies are particularly well suited to a world in which human beings can’t get too close to each other or are willing to reduce their interactions. Our lingering and possibly lasting fear of being infected with a virus (COVID-19 or another) will thus speed the relentless march of automation, particularly in the fields most susceptible to automation”.

All of this is in fact part of a long-term agenda promoted by Schwab, who was born in 1938 in Nazi Germany and whose businessman Swiss father collaborated with Hitler's regime. His technocratic vision is also a twisted transhumanist one, which will merge humans with machines in “curious mixes of digital-and-analog life”, which will infect our bodies with “Smart Dust” and in which the police will apparently be able to read our brains.

Schwab announced in his 2016 book The Fourth Industrial Revolution: “The mind-boggling innovations triggered by the fourth industrial revolution, from biotechnology to AI, are redefining what it means to be human”.

He added in the 2018 book Shaping the Future of the Fourth Industrial Revolution: “Some of us already feel that our smartphones have become an extension of ourselves. Today’s external devices—from wearable computers to virtual reality headsets—will almost certainly become implantable in our bodies and brains”.

The Nazis built a police-state regime built on fear and violence, on brainwashing and control, on propaganda and lies, on industrialism and eugenics, on dehumanisation and “disinfection”, on a chilling and grandiose vision of a “new order” that would last a thousand years. 21st century fascism is now global rather than merely national and has found different political forms through which to continue its core project of reshaping humanity to suit the wealthy elite through blatantly authoritarian means.

Schwab and Malleret smugly write that the fear around a pandemic has made people accept “coercive measures” to force them to conform to the Great Fascist Reset. But they should be aware that the tide can quickly turn and people can wake up en masse to their evil scheming!

We don’t have to accept their New Normal. We don’t have to go along with their fearmongering. We don’t have to take their vaccines. We don’t have to let them implant us with smartphones or edit our DNA. We don’t have to walk, muzzled and submissive, straight into their transhumanist hell.

The global elite are few in number. Their aims are not the aims of the vast majority of humankind. Their transhumanist vision is repulsive to nearly everyone outside of their little circle and they do not have consent for the technocratic dictatorship they are trying to impose on us.

That, after all, is why they have had to go to such lengths to force it upon us under the false flag of fighting a virus. They understood that without the “emergency” justification, we were never going to go along with their warped scheme.

They are scared of our potential power because they know that if we stand up, we will defeat them. We can bring their project crashing down before it has even properly started.

We are the people, we are the 99%, and together we can grab back our freedom from the deadly jaws of the fascist machine!

More info: winteroak.org.uk/the-great-reset